ESKİŞEHİR OSMANGAZİ UNIVERSITY

Graduate School of Natural and Applied Sciences

COMPUTER ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT MSc PROGRAM EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

- To have the necessary knowledge, skills, and understanding in the fields of mathematics, basic sciences, computer science, and engineering to solve advanced problems in the field of Computer Engineering

- To follow the current and trending technologies in the field of Computer Engineering, to have the ability to define and solve engineering problems at an advanced level, and to propose, design, and implement original research projects in accordance with ethical values

- To present and publish the conducted research and its results in oral and written form at the national and international scale

- To work as a researcher in national or international R&D-oriented institutions (universities, R&D centers of companies, and research institutes, etc.) or to provide employment by establishing a business in the field of Computer Engineering, and to employ in the industry the research skills gained by following the scientific developments in the field